

RAMADAN

Name:

DIRECTIONS: READ THE TEXT, THEN ANSWER THE QUESTIONS.

Ramadan is a holy month in the Islamic calendar observed by Muslims worldwide. During this month, Muslims fast from sunrise to sunset and break their fast with a meal called iftar. This practice is one of the Five Pillars of Islam and is a time for Muslims to reflect on their faith, increase their acts of charity, and focus on their relationship with Allah.

In addition to fasting, Muslims are encouraged to increase their prayers during Ramadan. Many mosques offer special prayers, and Muslims are encouraged to read the entire Quran during the month. The Quran is divided into 30 parts, so it can be read over the course of the month.

Ramadan is also a time for forgiveness and reconciliation. Many Muslims use the month to repair relationships with family and friends. The month culminates in Eid al-Fitr, a three-day festival of feasting and gift-giving.

RAMADAN

Name: _____

DIRECTIONS: ANSWER THE QUESTIONS.

1. What is Eid al-Fitr, and how is it celebrated?

2. What is the significance of fasting during Ramadan for Muslims?

3. What are some traditional foods that Muslims eat during iftar?

4. How does Ramadan encourage acts of charity?

5. What is the overall purpose of Ramadan for Muslims?

ANSWER KEY

1. Eid al-Fitr is a three-day festival that marks the end of Ramadan. Muslims celebrate by feasting, gift-giving, and exchanging greetings and well-wishes.
2. Fasting during Ramadan is one of the Five Pillars of Islam and is a time for Muslims to reflect on their faith, increase their acts of charity, and focus on their relationship with Allah.
3. Some traditional foods that Muslims may eat during iftar include dates, samosas, biryani, kebabs, falafel, and pakoras.
4. Ramadan is a time for Muslims to increase their acts of charity, with many Muslims donating to charity organizations or volunteering their time to help those in need.
5. The overall purpose of Ramadan for Muslims is to strengthen their faith and relationship with Allah, to increase their acts of charity, and to reflect on their actions.